OUR Story

Today's Bride is Northeast Ohio's premier multi-media resource for wedding businesses and couples alike. We have a love and passion for all things wedding.

Since the beginning, our mission has been simple — connect engaged couples with talented local wedding professionals. We serve as a convenient one-stop destination for brides and grooms embarking on their wedding planning journey, providing a wide range of resources to ensure they meet trusted wedding vendors.

Founded in 1989 by Denise and Jim Frericks, Today's Bride emerged from a personal experience of identifying a void in the wedding industry during their own wedding preparations. Committed to fostering direct connections between wedding businesses and engaged couples, we've pioneered platforms for digital, print, and face-to-face interactions. From our annual magazine to the array of bridal shows held throughout the year, we guarantee prime opportunities for you to engage with prospective clients.

★★★★★ “Tall Oaks has attended Today's Bride expos for a few years now, and they've become an integral part of our business in attracting engaged couples to our venue and spreading awareness of our offerings. Their small-business structure makes it easy to communicate with any contact you need; their personable, outgoing, and family-oriented team has done everything for us from assisting in putting up our trade show booth in a pinch, to sharing a funny email during the workday, to making sure we feel comfortable with every tiny detailed aspect of our sponsorship with them.” – Tall Oaks Resort

THE Publications

72% of engaged couples utilize wedding magazines for their planning. Our Northeast Ohio annual publication increases credibility, brand awareness, and maximizes your exposure by reaching a full year's worth of engagements.

Unlike the way readers often peruse and discard monthly subscriptions, couples tend to place our magazine on their coffee table or in their wedding binders to refer back to over the course of their planning. They dog-ear pages, add sticky notes, take notes, and share with their friends. This makes your print ad more effective and time-resistant.

FREQUENCY

Today's Bride Magazine is an annual publication that circulates for 12 months, from December through November the following year.

DISTRIBUTION

Copies are distributed through 200+ wedding retail locations across Northeast Ohio, 5,000+ show attendees, and your prospects. We'll keep you stocked with complimentary copies to give as a free gift, too.

DIGITAL EDITION

Each magazine is digitally published as an interactive version on TodaysBride.com and linked to your website and online profile, expanding your exposure further.
